NOTICE TO INTERVENOR PLAINTIFFS

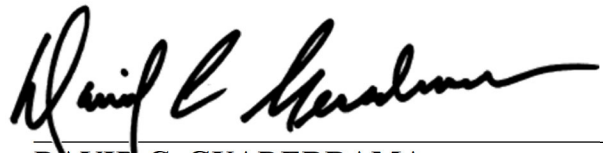

On May 13, 2025, the Court dismissed the Intervenor Plaintiffs’ challenge to Congressional District 18 because there’s no longer any living Intervenor who has standing to challenge that district.¹ On May 15, 2025, however, the Intervenor filed a pretrial brief that suggests that they still plan to pursue their CD18 challenge at trial.²

¹ See Order Granting Mot. Dismiss, ECF No. 972, at 1 (dismissing “all congressional intervenors’ claims related to Congressional District 18 (CD 18)” now that the only Intervenor challenging CD18 is deceased).

² See, e.g., Intervenor’s 1st Am. Pretrial Brief, ECF No. 989, at 1 (“The evidence will show that the Texas Legislature engaged in intentional racial discrimination and racial gerrymandering in the drawing of Congressional Districts 9, 18, and 30 . . .” (emphasis added)); id. at 2 (stating that “the evidence will demonstrate” that “the Legislature engaged in unnecessary surgery on . . . Congressional Districts 9, 18, and 30” (emphases added)); id. at 3 (asserting that “[t]he Court previously determined that Congressional Intervenor’s have standing to challenge the redistricting of CD 9, 18, and 30”—without mentioning the Court’s subsequent order concluding that none of the living Intervenor’s has standing to challenge CD18 (emphasis added)); id. at 4 (summarizing evidence pertaining to CD18, apparently with the intent to introduce that evidence at trial).

The Court therefore NOTIFIES the Intervenor that the Court will NOT permit them to pursue claims at trial that the Court has dismissed.

So ORDERED and SIGNED this 16th day of May 2025.

DAVID C. GUADERRAMA
SENIOR U.S. DISTRICT JUDGE

And on behalf of:
